PET DEER WON'T GO AWAY—Sharing her bottle with a fawn is carrying generosity too far, thinks Doris Bouch, N.Y. game protector's daughter. Raised by her parents and released, it keeps returning.

RHINO AND WART HOG, DAMON AND PYTHIAS

—Matilda, the baby rhino, and Charlie, the baby wart hog, gulp their morning milk by the gallon as they answer the breakfast call by Mrs. H. R. Stanton, a well-known woman game hunter, before being unloaded at a London, England, dock from the "Noah's Ark", which brought them from Africa. Mrs. Stanton collected a large number of animals consigned for zoos and circuses. Charlie and Matilda became good friends on the trip and even shared the same quarters.

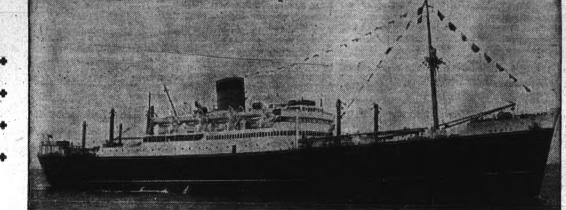

THEY BROKE A PRICE-FIXING LAW—Following stabilization of the Romanian currency, the government took drastic measures to prevent debasement by speculators and black marketeers. Backbone of the program was fixing of prices of vital necessities, with punishment decreed not only for the over-price seller, but also for the buyer. Here a woman who sold bread at 25 lei (fixed price is 14 lei), and the man who bought the bread are marched to the police station by citizens who saw the deal. The signs about their necks tell of the offence.

SIGHTLESS CAN CYCLE NOW—Painted shiny white, the first three-wheeled two-seater bicycle specially designed for use of blind persons was demonstrated at a Weston, Ont., bicycle plant. The inspiration of Robert W. Beath, shown here, is really two bicycles in one, joined side by side, with a common front wheel, two pairs of handlebars, and co-ordinated steering. With two sets of seats, pedals and rear wheels, the bicycle will enable a blind person to get the full exercise and enjoyment of cycling, with a sighted companion to guide the machine.

YOUNG ATLAS SHOWS HIS PROWESS—He hasn't carried the world on his shoulders yet, but 70-lb. Roy Horne, "little giant" of Tuscaloosa, Ala., who won't be four until Oct. 9, lifts his mother off the ground to demonstrate his amazing strength. Roy can also lift his 152-pound father, who, while declining to give his wife's weight, said she weighed more than he did. Tuscaloosa's wonder child talks in a deep and mature voice, and has a faint trace of a mustache.

BRITISH LUXURY LINER TO ATTRACT U.S. DOLLARS—Ready to play its part in Great Britain's drive to bring needed United States dollars to the Old Country, the liner Media is seen sailing majestically into New York harbor. The ship was making its maiden voyage from its docks at Southampton.

JAP NAIL IN HIS SKULL—A two-inch nail was removed from the brain of a Bataan death march survivor recently, but veterans administration surgeons said his life would hang in the balance for some days. In a delicate operation which required 2½ hours, the attending neuro-surgeon of the Fort Logan Veterans hospital removed the nail which Virgil Gomez, 27, of Cerro, N.M., said was pounded into his skull by a Japanese soldier while he played unconscious in a prison camp in the Philippines. Right: His wife is holding a nail about the size of that in his head, shown in the X-ray photo.

TRAIN PLOWS THROUGH HUGE TRUCK—The front part of a 20-ton trailer truck, still jammed against the locomotive of the Long Island Railroad train that hit it, is burning near Mineola station. The truck was loaded with insulation supplies which were strewn for 500 yards along the right of way. The driver was killed and the train's engineer and fireman, injured. A train passenger who saw the impending smash, jumped from the train and was reported to have broken both legs.

IN AIR RACE—Early take-off was okay for June Page Hlavacek, competitor in the Bendix trophy race in California. Seen here posed on her plane, she was given permission to start at an early hour because she has another race to compete in later.

IN "OKLAHOMA"—Judy Garland of Leamington, Ont., won a spot in the musical hit "Oklahoma" by singing the "Lord's Prayer" at an audition. She will appear in the show in Canadian cities. 2742

BUTTER BOOTLEGGING

TO U. S. SAID
AFFECTING CANADIANS

One important reason for the continuing shortage of butter and its consequent price advances in Canada is consumption of hundreds of thousands of pounds by Americans in Canada or at home, says Canadian Grocer. It is either being consumed in enormous quantities by U. S. visitors to the Dominion or it is finding its way south of the border, argues the grocery business paper.

Americans have to pay 87 to 97 cents per pound for it in the U. S., while it is selling in Canada for about 60 cents. The grocery paper points to British Columbia and to the Quebec borders as likely spots for butter bootlegging on a considerable scale. Reports from Western Lake, B. C. show heavy butter buying there, and there are conflicting reports as to how much any increase in population in the area accounts for this.

One estimate reported by Canadian Grocer is that Canada has 120 tens of thousands of boxes across the border. Shippers could easily make up to $8,000 per car over the Vancouver price it estimates.

T.R. QUESTIONS

Q. What effects have aspirin tablets upon the body when taken for the purpose of reducing temperature?

A. Aspirin is a general muscle and nerve depressant. It also relieves pain and, if not taken to excess, will have no apparent ill effect on the body except perhaps the causation of hyperacidity in the stomach. If the temperature is elevated, aspirin will usually lower it; but if not elevated before taking aspirin, no effect may be noticed.

Q. When smoke is inhaled does it enter any part of the lungs?

A. Yes.

CAMERA SMALLER THAN CIGARETTE PACKAGE

A new "Micro 16" camera, smaller than a pack of cigarettes but turning out 2 1/2 x 3 1/4 in. prints, has just been introduced to Canadians, reports Drug Merchandising. A precision-built snapshot camera, its fixed focus lens claims to give sharp images from three feet to infinity.

The Micro takes special film cartridge, sold at a price that includes finishing. The picture taker simply loads his camera, snaps his pictures, takes out the film and slips it back into its original box which is designed as a mailing carton. The finishing pictures are returned by mail in a few days.

The camera has an achromatic, color-corrected lens, set to 1:1,000 in. tolerance, and three stop adjustments. Each instrument carries factory serial number and a guarantee against faulty workmanship or materials, the drug business paper adds.

Canadian National Institute for the Blind
CAMPAIGN NOW IN PROGRESS

This week let's think about our blind neighbors. This week let's give all to The Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The work it does means the difference between idleness and activity, poverty and employment, despair and hope to blind people all over Southern Alberta. When we help the C. N. I. B., we're not just keeping the wolf from a blind man's door—though that is important too, we're helping to restore his independence, his ability to stand on his own feet and to fill a valuable place in the community.

Through the training given by the Institute, blind housewives can continue to bear their home responsibilities, elderly people can learn crafts to occupy otherwise idle hours and bring them remuneration, blind people of all ages can enjoy the world of books through the Braille Library. Young men with their lives before them can be trained for employment. Men who already have families to support can learn to work in the dark. Parents of blind babies can find out the best way to train them for normal well-adjusted lives.

This is the work that we are helping to do when we contribute to the current campaign of the C. N. I. B. Think of the lives that have been made worth while through the services of the Institute. THINK HOW WE WOULD APPRECIATE SUCH SERVICE IF WE WERE BLIND—AND LET US GIVE WITH A FREE HAND TO CONTINUE THE GOOD WORK.

This major campaign is being conducted this week in all villages, Towns and Cities in Southern Alberta—excluding Cities of Calgary and Lethbridge which are Community Chest Cities.

If for any reason a canvasser does not call on you in your Town, your cheques would be greatly appreciated and may be forwarded to the Calgary office of the C. N. I. B., which is located in the Old County House Building, Calgary, and at which time an official receipt exempting your subscription amount from Income Tax, will be forwarded to you by return mail.

A SILLY GAMBLE

(Fort William Times Journal) Russian roulette is an interesting game. You place one bullet in a revolver and spin the cylinder. Then you turn the muzzle towards your head and pull the trigger.

An 18-year-old youth explained to two companions in Port Huron, Michigan, last Sunday: "Heck, there's nothing to it—you've got five out of six chances to live."

Then he pulled the trigger—and died an hour later. He had missed the five chances.

We do not believe the boy was insane. He was acting like the thousands of his fellow-travelers in the world who do not work out percentages before they gamble. What this lad craved, apparently, was notoriety—so he was the talk of the town because he dared to take such a chance.

Only in degree was he different from the car driver who treats his companions to a race against a train for a crossing, or the lad who shows off by swimming too far out into the lake.

The June bride is advised by the department of national health and welfare, through its nutrition department, to be prepared to select, as well as prepare, healthful meals for hubby.

Pointing out that appetite is not a reliable guide to good eating, and that all our nutrition is based on scientific experiments, the national health leaders in this field invite newlyweds to study food requirements, in order to lay a healthful foundation for these new homes.

TORONTO COMEDIANS

FRANK SHUSTER and Jimmy WAYNE of Toronto, have begun a new series of music-and-comedy programs over the CBC Trans-Canada network on Thursdays at 8:30 p.m. With them, are Bernard Braden, actor; Herb May, announcer; Samuel Hershenov, and orchestra; Georgia Day, singer, and Dick Nelson, a mimic often billed as "the man with a thousand voices."

An employee of a large firm approached the office manager. "Sir," he said, "I'd like to have a week off."

"What?" said the manager, "you just got back from a holiday."

"But I want to get married," replied the clerk.

"Why didn't you get married while you were on your vacation?"

"Well, I didn't want to spoil my vacation."

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Don Graham

In virtually every job, future developments must be constantly taken into account.

If you are working to a definite schedule, your main and perhaps only concern will be to keep up with it.

But if you have no such schedule to adhere to, don't fall into the error of thinking that it is not necessary to plan your work ahead. Every job can be done more efficiently by taking future requirements into account.

The advantages of doing so are many and important. To suggest a few:

It enables you to be better prepared for each task as you come to it. It closes up gaps between operations—eliminates delays.

It gives you a clear picture of your whole job and of production rates which may be needed for reference at any moment.

While these are broad generalizations, I am sure that an analysis of your particular job will reveal many other specific advantages of organizing for tomorrow.

The necessity of planning for one's financial future is recognized by millions of Canadian owners of Life Insurance. For them and their families, security is an assured fact.

T. B. QUESTIONS

I have five cavities in my left lung and one in my right. For how long a period do you think I will have to take pneumothorax?

A. No, I am afraid, can predict whether or not cavities will heal. However, the longer they have existed, the less likely is their healing. Under the conditions you mention, it may be advisable to continue pneumothorax indefinitely if a good collapse is procured. If the collapse is ineffective, it may have to be abandoned early. An effective collapse should be maintained for at least two full years.

A Rural Housing Project

THE NEED FOR IMPROVING HOUSING, educational and recreational facilities in rural communities in Western Canada has long been recognized, since in none of these respects does the average rural man realize the advantages offered to those who live in towns and cities. The fact that living conditions in country are more attractive has rightly been attributed to be the cause of many enterprising young people leaving the farms and seeking work in urban centres where they can have more modern homes, send their children to larger schools, and enjoy wider cultural and recreational advantages. It is generally agreed that it is most unjust that farmers, who contribute so much to the well being of the entire country, should not live and work in surroundings as attractive as those in the larger towns and cities. This matter has received the attention of governments, agricultural organizations and other interested bodies for many years, and in numerous farm communities great improvements have been made in educational facilities and in providing recreational and cultural opportunities for residents of all age groups.

Standards To Be Improved It appears now that constructive action is being taken to raise the standards for farm homes in Western Canada. In this connection it has recently been announced that under the Prairie Rural Housing Committee, which includes representatives of the Federal Department of Agriculture and the Central Mortgage and Mortgagage Corporation, research will be conducted to improve living conditions for Western Canadian families. Research teams from the Universities of Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba are now studying such problems as water and heating systems, methods of sewage disposal, and construction materials and costs. At the University of Manitoba work is being carried on in connection with the planning and design of farm homes, farm kitchens, and community centres to meet the needs of rural districts. Farm men and women are being consulted for suggestions and ideas in connection with these studies and it is reported that keen interest is being shown in the planning of homes provided with equipment, storage space and other facilities which will lighten the work of the farm family and give more pleasant surroundings in which to live.

Study Needs Of Western Farms Professor J. A. Russell, director of the School of Architecture and Fine Arts at the University of Manitoba announced recently that the budget allocated for the entire project in the year ending March 31, 1948, is $33,825. It has been arranged that each Western province will bear about 15 per cent. of this expenditure, while the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation will pay the remaining 55 per cent. It is expected that the project will not be completed for two years, but interim plans will be available for the use of the farmer during this period. As is the case with all types of housing in Canada at the present time, there has been a minimum of construction of farm homes during the past few years due to the critical shortage of labor and materials. By the time it is possible for any extensive building program to be undertaken in rural districts it appears that plans will be available for homes suitable to the needs of the Western farmer, and that no longer will prairie farm homes be built from plans more suited to city houses or to eastern Canadian farms.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

"I once loved a girl who made a complete fool of me."

"What a lasting impression some girls make."

A commercial traveller, held up in the Orkneys by a storm, wired to his firm in Aberdeen: "Marooned by storm — wire instructions."

They replied: "Start summer holidays as from yesterday."

The leader of the party visiting a mental institution went up to a group of inmates standing near the gate. Quietly he addressed one of them:

"Why are you all here, my good man?"

The other grimed, pointed to the party, and gave the simple reply: "Because we're not all there."

Poetic Rover (to farmer): "And does this glorious setting sun mean nothing to you?"

Farmer (mopping his brow): "I'll say it does. It means I can eventually unhitch the horses and go home."

After going about three miles the motorist who had given an old lady a lift on the country road asked: "And where did you say you were going?"

"Well," said the old lady, "to tell you the truth I was going in the opposite direction, only I didn't like to hurt your feelings when you were so kind as to offer me a ride."

The five-year-old evacuee was wakened from his doze by his first morning on the farm. He took some in his spoon, sniffed at it several times, looked up in surprise, and exclaimed: "Coo, what a funny egg; it don't smell."

Murphy: "Have ye seen Pat lately?"

Mike: "Faith, yes, I thought I saw him on the other side of the road yesterday, and he thought he seen me, but, begorra, when we got up to each other it was neither he nor I."

A sailor called unexpectedly on his fiancee. He found her all dressed up and ready to go to a party.

"That's the spirit," he told her. "No need to be gloomy."

Just then the telephone bell rang, and the sailor answered it.

"What?" he said. "On your honeymoon?"

"I suppose you think I'm a bit of a fool, but, begorra, I should certainly think so." And he hung up the receiver.

"Who was that?" asked the girl.

"Oh," said the sailor, "just a fellow who wanted to know if the coast is clear!"

Young man: "I want to buy a diamond ring."

Salesman: "Yes, sir. How about one of our engagement sets? Three pieces. Engagement, wedding, and bedding."

A special constable had been told to stop a car which was racing fast in his direction. Two minutes later he ran up to the car and said: "I'm a constable sent by an actress," he said. "I won't do it," she announced.

"Madam," the constable replied, looking down his nose, "people who like to walk don't shop here."

A Chinese cook was taking a walk through the woods when he heard a noise behind him. He turned and saw a bear following him, smelling his tracks.

"So," he said, "you like my tracks? Very good, me make some more."

Chili Restricts Luxury Exports From Canada

MONTREAL — Mariano Bustos, Chilean consul-general here, announced that because of shrinking dollar reserves his country is imposing temporary prohibition on a wide range of "luxury" imports from Canada. The restrictive decree will expire Dec. 31.

Among products and manufactures affected by the decree are industrial, commercial and domestic refrigerators, gas and electric heaters, pottery, glassware, lumber, hunting and trapping equipment, cameras, domestic radios, builders' hardware, plumbing supplies, cutlery, flour-milling machinery, footwear, dyes, perfumes and toothpaste.

Heavy machinery, agricultural implements, blueprint, lumber and chemical products are not affected by the decree, Mr. Bustos said.

Memorial Edition Of Jack Miner's Book

All followers of the life of the late Jack Miner and his career as a bird lover, naturalist, conservationist and humanitarian will be interested to learn that the Jack Miner Foundation have recently purchased the Rely-Lee Pub. Co. of Chicago, and the Conn Clark Co. of Toronto, to print for the public interest a new enlarged Memorial Edition of the book entitled Jack Miner And The Birds. They have combined his two books entitled Jack Miner And The Birds and Jack Miner And The Birds. The book will be published in the most famous magazine and newspaper articles sandwiched in between, making it a very large edition of several hundred pages. It is quite appropriate that it be called the memorial edition.

Orders have flooded the publishers' offices before the book was actually published, and it is now evident of how popular Jack Miner's writings and life work was as he lived among his fellowmen of his generation. The late Jack Miner was not considered a naturalist; from a scientific standpoint he was not, but his life was not interested much in the number of spots on a woodpecker's tail as he was in saving that and other species from extermination."

The late Governor Alfred Smith of the State of New York always introduced Jack Miner as "the Billy Sunday of the bird family".

John Simon Cobb always referred to Jack Miner as "the greatest practical naturalist on the planet" while Edgar A. Guest, the Detroit poet, always spoke of him as the best poet.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

An 87-year-old woman in Chester, Eng., was considered too old to be punished for the theft of a handbag.

The dollar cost of the war to Britain was $9,000,000,000, equivalent to 26 years of British imports from the United States at 1939 prices.

A British court will be awarded each year to a private citizen performing the bravest deed in maintaining law and order in London.

Elena Vladimirovna, engineer in the Moscow Mechanical Institute, was reported to have fallen 12,136 feet before opening her parachute in a jump from 28,260 feet.

LONDON.—The food ministry has concluded an agreement with the Guatemalan American Company for supply of carcass meat to Britain, it was announced.

British authorities and authorities will get 1,000 people's automobiles (Volkswagens) to be built this year, it was disclosed by the German News Agency in the United States zone.

The National Employment Service in Winnipeg has inaugurated demonstrations of industrial processes, to enable manufacturers to get a better idea of the work involved in different jobs.

The British Ministry of Supply has made a special gift to the Polish Government of 11,000 parts for a Bailey bridge like those used by British and American forces for crossing the Rhine in the war.

Tax Collection Under Saskatchewan Hospital Services Plan

"Collection of 1948 hospitalization tax began September 1 in rural areas and will start in cities, towns, and villages October 1," Glyn W. Myers, executive director of the Saskatchewan Hospital Services Plan recently announced.

The deadline for all the payment of 1948 tax is November 30 but rural residents are being given the opportunity to start paying their tax a month earlier.

The tax rate remains the same as in 1947: annual fee $5 a person, with a maximum of $30 for a family, regardless of size. However, any 1947 tax still owing must be included before the new tax is paid. The new card will be issued. For 1948, only one card will be issued to a family. This will be made out in the name of the taxpayer, listing all dependents as beneficiaries.

Again, families who owe a tax of $20 or more and find it difficult to pay the full amount at one time may pay in two installments—a minimum of $15 by November 30, 1947, and balance by May 31, 1948. In the event of late payment, a person must wait a month from date of payment to obtain a right to claim capital benefits. Further, all of the required part payment on family tax must be made before any member of the family can receive benefits.

Taxpayers are advised to pay their tax in advance of deadlines (Nov. 30) so as to save themselves waiting in long lines as thousands had to do last year.

OTTAWA HAS OVER MILLION SETS OF ARMY FINGERPRINTS ON FILE.

OTTAWA.—More than 1,000,000 sets of fingerprints of servicemen and ex-servicemen, representing about one-half the population of Canada, between the ages of 18 and 50, are on file at the Canadian Armed Forces Identification Bureau here.

The prints were taken during the war years with a view to establishing 100 per cent identification in action and are being retained for identity purposes only. Officials said that in "exceptional circumstances" will the information contained in the C.A.F.I.B. files be put at the disposal of police.

At the same time, there are good reasons why the armed forces have not destroyed the 1,195,000 sets of prints in their possession.

For one thing, the prints afford foolproof protection to a soldier or his next-of-kin alike insofar as pensions are concerned.

The prints also serve to identify men who die by misadventure in Canada. In the north recently the body of an unknown man was washed up on the shore of a small lake, and it was noted in his coat pocket a identification card and a bullet hole.

They turned his fingerprints over to the bureau on the chance that he had once served in the armed forces.

He and his identity was established beyond reasonable doubt.

Proof of identity in such cases helps in the settlement of insurance claims.

If a man's body is not identified, his widow might have to wait as much as seven years before she can get compensation in their pension.

"Just listen... to Suzy's
new engine!"

HER NEW ENGINE has given the "Suzy M." a new lease on life. Now she gets out to the fishing grounds in double-quick time, and the hours saved mean her daily catch is just that much bigger.

A bank loan made all the difference. And the extra money Suzy's owner is making will soon pay off the cost of the engine.

Local bank managers along Canada's coasts are eager to help their neighbours catch fish, by making bank credit available for the purchase of engines, nets and other gear. Not only do they take care of funds left in their charge but they also supply credit to local businessmen, sawmill operators, farmers, people in every walk of life.

THIS IS ONE INSTANCE OF
how Canada's 3,200 branch banks play their part in the daily life and work of Canadians.

EGGS AND YOU

There's a valuable tip, say the medical men, in that song and story entitled, "The Egg and I". For, they point out, tucked inside eggshells is high quality protein, important for health.

Two medium-sized eggs substitute satisfactorily for one serving of meat as far as protein is concerned. The yolk is packed with vitamins and minerals, too. The nutrition authorities say that Canadians should aim at eating at least three eggs a week, in addition to any they use as meat substitutes.
